

Connecting Research-Practice-Policy Learning Series

Study of Dual-Language Immersion (DLI)

June 14, 2016

2:00—4:00 PM ET

LBJ Auditorium*

Research Panelists

Jennifer L. Steele

*Principal Investigator,
Associate Professor,
American University*

Robert Slater

Co-Principal Investigator, American Council

Michael Bacon

*Assistant Director of Dual Language,
Portland Public Schools*

Practitioner Panelists

Dr. Rebecca Palacios

Corpus Christie ISD, AFT

Sheila Majdi

Arlington PS, NEA

This session will feature an IES grantee's work on the Study of Dual-Language Immersion (DLI) in the Portland Public Schools with the first randomized control trial evaluation design conducted on a district-wide scale.

A panel of researchers, including a district representative, will discuss key findings from the four-year study on DLI programs offered in Spanish, Japanese, Mandarin Chinese, and Russian.

In addition, a panel of teachers facilitated by Giselle Lundy-Ponce, AFT and Luis-Gustavo Martinez, NEA will provide responses to the study from a classroom implementation perspective.

To view virtually: <http://edstream.ed.gov/webcast/Play/eb6b9ebb661a407f912133e85c098b581d>

*Send email to Anthony.Sepulveda@ed.gov to RSVP or request a reasonable accommodation.

Sponsored by the U.S. Department of Education,
Office of English Language Acquisition, the Office of Early Learning, and the Institute of Education Sciences